and Cracker Jacks. It was at this event that brothers Frederick and Louis Rueckheim operated a booth selling 1920's it was one of the most beloved and best-selling treats in the country. a sugary, sweet blend of popcorn and peanuts covered in molasses. Visitors loved the treat so much that a few to the American public, including the Ferris Wheel, The Chicago World's Fair in 1893, often hailed as "the fair that changed America," unveiled iconic innovations years later, in 1896, the Rueckheim brothers began selling their creation under the name "Cracker Jack."
